

Hampshire Household Waste Recycling Centre of the Year 2010/11 Award Winners Revealed!

March 2011

Hopkins Recycling Ltd, in association with Hampshire County Council, is delighted to announce the winners of its annual HWRC 'Site of the Year' Awards.

Hopkins Recycling Ltd manages all 26 of the County's Household Waste Recycling Centres (HWRCs), used by Hampshire householders for recycling their bulky household and garden waste. The recycling centres are run on a contract basis on behalf of Hampshire County Council, and officers from the Council's Waste Management section were also involved in the judging process.

The awards recognise performance in 10 key contract areas including Recycling Performance, Customer Care, Cleanliness and Health & Safety.

The year 2010 presented some unforeseen challenges, not least the snowy and icy weather around Christmas time yet once again all of the HWRC's rose to those challenges and maintained consistently excellent standards of which Hopkins Recycling Ltd is extremely proud.

The winner of the title 'Site of the Year 2010/11' was Waterlooville HWRC, which is managed by Steven Jewell and a dedicated team of staff who were highly praised by the judging panel. Hopkins Recycling Ltd and its entire staff remain committed to the continued execution of the highest possible standards at all of its HWRCs, and continue to raise the performance bar for operational excellence and superior customer service wherever possible.
